

U. S. GOVERNMENT WILL PROTEST AGAINST ACT OF THE FRIEDRICH CONTENTION THAT VESSEL CARRIED CONTRABAND NOT CONSIDERED JUSTIFIABLE

Washington, March 11.—President Wilson announced today that a "searching inquiry" would be made into the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich. This statement was issued at the White House:

"The president when asked regarding the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, said:

"A most searching inquiry will be made and whatever action is taken will be based upon the result of that inquiry."

Discussion of the affair in official quarters was taken to fore-shadow a strong protest to Germany against the sinking of the American vessel.

The contention of the German commander that the American ship had contraband on board and, therefore, destruction was justified, has been set up as a plea in other cases, but never has been recognized by the United States as the only justification for such action on the part of a belligerent.

Action Calls For Diplomatic Negotiations

The fact that the Eitel was commanded by a German naval officer, under commission from the German government and the fact that no lives were lost when the Frye was sunk transferred the case from the realm of criminal proceedings under the federal statutes of a possible charge of piracy and makes it a subject of diplomatic negotiations with the object of gaining reparation for the owners and a disclaimer of unfriendliness.

That the United States would ask for damages and an explanation from the German government was regarded as certain.

Germany Must Repudiate Captain Or Withdraw Note

Some officials thought the German government would find itself compelled to repudiate the act of the German captain or abandon the position taken by Germany in recent correspondence with the United States on the subject of foodstuffs.

Precedents in international law reveal that the circumstances under which neutral governments

WHEN BIG TORPEDO-BOAT DESTROYER WAS LAUNCHED

Launches the Melville

Torpedo boat destroyers of Uncle Sam's navy now have a "mother." She was launched at Philadelphia a few days ago and was christened "Melville" in honor of the late Rear Admiral George Melville of Annapolis. The vessel is called "The mother of torpedo boat destroyers" because she will be fitted out to take care of them at every moment they are at sea or in port.

SEA ROVER WILL NOT BE INTERNED HERE AFTER BEING REPAIRED

Newport News, Va., March 11.—Capt. Thierichsen, of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich late today formally informed Collector of Customs Hamilton that it was not his intention to intern his vessel and that unless the United States refuses to grant him the necessary time for repairs and restrains him, the converted cruiser will attempt to continue its voyage of adventure.

Crew of American Ship Released

Newport News, Va., March 11.—The crew of the American ship William P. Frye, sunk by the German cruiser Eitel Friedrich, were released from the Eitel Friedrich late today and brought ashore. Twenty-two arrived, but two of German nationality remained behind and responded to colors of the fatherland by enlistment.

Newport News, Va., March 11.—The story of the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye, by the German commerce destroyer Prinz Eitel Friedrich—undoubtedly the most serious incident of the war in its concern to the United States—was being slowly unraveled here today.

Chased to the haven of an American port by British cruisers, the Prinz Eitel Friedrich and her commander had received from the port authorities the usual notice to leave within twenty-four hours. That, however, was mere formality required by law, for after seven months of sea-roving, in which she sent eleven prizes to the bottom the German auxiliary needs repairs which will take weeks.

The Eitel's band played German airs today in celebration of Commander Thierichsen's birthday, her three hundred prisoners of several nations was gathered at the rails and her German crew was cleaning ship, while the American port officials made hurried visits from the customs house to the liner for conferences with Commander Thierichsen and his officers and held telephone communication with Washington.

RIDING RUST REDDENED AT REST, GERMAN SEA ROVER PRESENTS INSPIRING SIGHT

Newport News, Va., March 11.—The rising sun that sparkled the shimmering crystal of the historic James river today emblazoned the rust reddened sides of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, a German auxiliary cruiser that sought refuge yesterday in American waters after a merchant marine wrecking voyage in two oceans. The German vessel had dodged unexpected and unharmed into this port through a gauntlet of belligerent warships whose wireless signals had betrayed their presence.

In the wake of the German warship, barnacle covered and crippled, lay the hulk of an American merchant ship mingling at the bottom of the South Atlantic ocean with the debris of seven ships of England, France and Russia, allies in the war against Germany. In the Pacific ocean through which the Eitel Friedrich had plowed for months before, there may have been other triumphs of war but the lips of officers of this marine phantom paradox were sealed as to conquests unrecorded.

BRITISH MAKE GREAT HEADWAY IN FRANCE

London, March 11.—Great Britain's plan to give effect to the naval reprisal measures against Germany, as embodied in an order in council was signed today by King George.

TREMPER HAS BILL FOR LAKE ERIE AND OHIO RIVER CANAL

Columbus, March 11.—To facilitate construction of the proposed ship canal between Lake Erie and the Ohio river, a bill was being prepared today authorizing counties through which it may pass to vote special bond issues for aiding in the project. Senator Tremper, of Scioto, expected to introduce a bill in the senate today and Representative Fleming, of Mahoning county in the house.

The measure is backed by the Lake Erie and Ohio river ship canal association of which former Mayor William A. Magee, of Pittsburgh, is president. It is proposed that the bill will take the place of the ship canal act passed by the legislature four years ago.

Senator Tremper said the West Virginia legislature passed a bill similar to his several days ago, and a like measure is pending in the Pennsylvania legislature. The proposed route of the canal urged by the canal association is through Northeast Ohio, probably from Ashtabula through Tolland, Stabins and Columbus counties.

Other counties will be expected to vote on the project.

CARRANZA PROMISES TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS

Washington, March 11.—Sener Riano, the Spanish ambassador, informed the state department today that four Spaniards had been assassinated in Mexico City and presented reports of the looting and burning of private residences in the outskirts.

Washington, March 11.—General Carranza's reply to the American note was laid before President Wilson today and afterward it was indicated in administration circles that the situation looked more encouraging.

Continued efforts, however, will be made by the United States to assure unbroken communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz and for the care of the destitute in Mexico City.

Washington, March 11.—General Carranza's formal reply to urgent representations of the American government relative to conditions in Mexico City, the text of which had been made public in Vera Cruz, was being deciphered today at the state department. The reply, which was directed to President Wilson personally and cabled in code, was received at the department late last night.

In his reply, as given out at Vera Cruz, General Carranza promised that foreigners in Mexico City would be afforded protection. His assurance to that effect, officials here confidently believed, would make it unnecessary for the American government to take any steps beyond those already taken.

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF CATHOLICS IN U. S.

New York, March 11.—There are 16,309,210 Catholics in the United States.

Will Try To Oust Creamer From Bd.

Columbus, March 11.—D. S. Creamer, newly appointed democratic member of the state board of administration, qualified today and took his seat with the board. Creamer was appointed as a Democrat, but a court test of his right to serve will be made by members of that party, on the ground that Creamer having bolted the ticket at the last election can no longer claim allegiance to it.

Former Attorney General T. S. Hogan representing the Democratic state organization, is in charge of the legal fight that will be instituted to oust Creamer.

CAN'T SMOKE CIGARETTES AND TEACH SCHOOL IN OHIO IF BILL BEFORE ASSEMBLY PASSES

Columbus, March 10.—The house public health committee today voted to report out with recommendation for passage the Danford bill prohibiting the sale or manufacture of cigarettes in the state. He said if they had supported it actively the house would have passed the bill.

"I recently attended a banquet of medical men," said Mr. Danford, "and ninety-nine percent of them sat around the table smoking cigarettes. What can we expect of the doctors in the cigarette question under such circumstances?"

If the Danford bill should be enacted, professors of Ohio State, Ohio and Miami universities, Kent and Bowling Green normal schools, and even all teachers in public schools would have to abstain from cigarette smoking, or the schools could not receive public money.

6TH CITY CLUB WOMEN SUPPORT SEGREGATION

Cleveland, March 11.—Efforts to prevent the closing of Cleveland's segregated district will be made by the Woman's Civic association and the Ohio Congress of Mothers, according to statements made by leaders of these organizations today. Chief of Police Rowe, who issued an order that the district would be closed March 31, said today he would confer with representatives of the women's organizations who contend that the closing order will scatter women of that district promiscuously throughout residence sections of the city with results more harmful than a continuation of present conditions under police surveillance.

BILLY BUT-IN

Old Solomon says: "Silence is golden" and a little further along "talk in brass"—or words to that effect. "Thoughts are also golden," he says, and that puts us philosophers in a pickle. What good does it do a fellow to think things if he can't say 'em? But I guess the old sage meant "too much talk" is brass—if that's the case I agree with him! But I've got to speak a word on tomorrow's weather. Here it is:

AMERICAN NURSES ON WAY TO WAR HAVE EXCITING EXPERIENCES ON BURNING SHIP

American nurses aboard La Touraine, photographed just before leaving New York.

These American nurses on their way to the war zone in France got a very good taste of danger while on the Atlantic. The La Touraine, the French liner on which they sailed, was taken under attack, and for a time it was feared the ship would be lost. She was saved by the wireless, however, and lowered into port with all her passengers unharmed. Mrs. William J. Fitzgerald of New York donated $100,000 to equip these nurses and five doctors for field service.

Attacks Boy With Scissors, Delmar Gulley Is Arrested

A broken pair of scissors, it is claimed, was the dangerous weapon used by Delmar Gulley, aged 14 years, in viciously attacking Ralph Seagars, aged 13, during a fight they had in Mabel road Wednesday afternoon.

Young Seagars was cut twice under the right eye, stabbed in the left eye, the scissors penetrating the eye-ball, and also received an ugly-looking scalp wound before he succeeded in breaking away from his assailant and taking refuge in his home.

Police were notified, and after investigating reported the facts to Judge T. C. Deatty, of the juvenile court, who ordered the Gulley boy to appear before him Saturday morning.

The trouble is said to have been the outcome of an old grudge between the two neighbor boys, they happening to meet in front of the Seagars home. The Seagars boy was badly used up, but it was not thought his wounds were serious and no physician was called to attend him. He is a son of Jerry Seagars, while the other is a son of William Gulley. The fathers of the two lads are both employed at the N. & W. Terminals.

Later the police heard that Gulley was attempting to make a getaway and notified Probate Judge Deatty. The latter ordered the youth's detention, and police, acting on the court's orders, arrested and placed him in the county jail.

Delmar Gulley, accused of using a pair of broken scissors on Ralph Seagars, was released by Judge Deatty Thursday afternoon and he will be given a hearing Saturday in the juvenile court.

Says Wife Threatened To Shoot Him; Asks For Legal Separation

Charging that his wife possessed an ungovernable temper that was at times aggravated by use of morphine, that she disregarded marital duties toward him, that she threatened him with a revolver last September and frequently left him and compelled him to cook his own meals, or board with neighbors, and that she was guilty of extreme cruelty toward him at divers times, Alva Lyons, through his attorney, Theo. K. Funch, filed a suit for divorce from his wife Amanda Lyons, in common pleas court Thursday. The couple were married January 26, 1896, and have no children.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss, thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will improve the condition of your hair, fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to use the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 65 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not stylish, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. Sage darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is so easy, because it does it so naturally and so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and by another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

It's a Good Thing

A young man brought one of our "Ideal Pocket Saving Banks" with his three days' savings of quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies to our office. We opened it and he had almost $3.00 which he deposited on his savings book.

He said, "It is a good thing. If I had not had the bank, I would have spent the money. As it was, I saved it. I saved it. I saved it."

If the small bank is a good thing for him, it will be good for you. You can start today by leaving a dime with us and taking the bank with you. When you return the bank to be opened and your savings are credited on a pass book, we return the dime to you. The bank is little but it helps.

The difference is this: just try it. You won't wonder when you put your shoes on in the morning, "GETS-IT" is sure, "gets" any corn, callus, wart or bunion.

Donalds Wants To Return To Minors

Word comes from the Brooklyn National league training camp at Westonia, Fla., that Eddie Donalds, former Portsmouth player, who was secured from the Waco, Texas league club, by the Supercas, has asked Manager Robinson to send him to a minor league outfit, Donalds complaining that his arm is bothering him and he will not be able to deliver a National league brand of pitching. SAYS BOMBS NOT CONTAIN EXPLOSIVES

New York, March 11.—William Keir, of counsel for Frank Abarno and Carmine Carbone, accused of placing bombs in St. Patrick's cathedral, who claim they were "framed-up" by the police, testified in court today that the bombs did not contain explosives.

In moving before Judge Swann for permission to inspect the report of an analysis of the contents of the bombs, the attorney said:

"Abarno does not know character of potsh from epson salts. Neither does Carbone. We know who manufactured these bombs and what they contained, probably sand or some other inert stuff."

WHEN AN EDITOR WAS OUT OF SORTS.

The Irononian, of Sunday morning, unlimbered itself and said a few pert things about Portsmouth, said them in a cheerful, nonchalant sort of way that carried the impression that as a matter of course they were true. Of course if we were to say what we thought of what the Irononian thinks about us, it might occasion hard feelings, and being a man of peace, we refrain. We just reprint some of the unkindest cuts that our vast army of readers can see what a mean editor can think of in a particularly devilish moment. Here are three samples:

"The Modern Woodmen at Portsmouth were surprised by their wives Friday evening. No harm done. It was after idgen hours."

"Portsmouth is to have a public bath house for school children. We had been hearing reports but never suspected it was as bad as all that."

"Portsmouth has plans under way for the raising of the flood defenses. Ironton is like the Arkansas traveler. We can't build defenses while floods are on and when there is no flood we don't need them."

A SUGGESTION SCORNFUL.

Seeing the complete unlikelihood of any attempt to remove the state capital from Charleston to any other city, several West Virginia papers have begun in concert to urge the construction of a capitol building that will be somewhat commensurate with the dignity and importance of the state. Strange to say it is a Charleston paper that leads in scorning the suggestion. According to it the present building, though somewhat over crowded with an ever increasing retinue of commissions and departments, is sufficient for present needs and a more commodious structure would be but a provocation to the creation of more commissions, departments and bureaus. In this position it is quite correct, but still there stands that capitol building, that looks somewhat like a cross between one of these modern frisky high school buildings and a condensed milk foundry.

FARES REASONABLY WELL.

Fair women, and some not so fair, either in face or speech, continue to war upon "man-made laws" and demand her sex be put upon an equality with the manufacturers, in their enactments. According to the New York Tribune she may be asking for more than she wants. It has had two of the ablest lawyers compile statutes in which men and women are not placed on an equality and this is what they submit:

She is exempt from military service.
A married woman is not obliged to contribute toward the support of the family.

She may work and earn money and do with it as she pleases. She may own real and personal property, and may sell or dispose of it as she pleases without her husband's consent. The husband cannot dispose of his real estate without his wife's consent.

She is not obliged to pay her husband's bills, even though they are for family expenses. The husband must pay her bills. If through his fault she obtains a divorce the husband must pay alimony. But if through her fault he obtains a divorce she pays nothing.

She may be worth millions and eat him off without a cent in her will. He cannot cut off her dower right.

If he dies intestate leaving children they receive two-thirds and the widow one-third of his personal estate besides her "dower right" of one-third of his real estate. If she dies, leaving children, the husband is entitled to one-third of her personal estate, but nothing else.

If he owns the home in which they live he cannot sell or mortgage it without the signature of the wife. If she owns it she may do with it as she pleases.

If the husband fails to support her he may be arrested and prosecuted criminally. No matter how wealthy she is, or how sick or poor he is, the wife cannot be compelled to support him.

When a girl is married under 18 the man may be punished as an abductor if the parents' consent was not obtained. But there is no punishment for the girl, no matter how young the man may be.

Factory owners may not put women to work in their shops before 6 a. m. or keep them there after 9 p. m., nor may they force women to work more than fifty-four hours or six days a week. There is no such law for men employees.

In short, the law puts woman above man, nor denies her any statute which could improve her position, so that, if it be equally she wants she must "get down off the perch birdie" and stand on terra firma "just like the men."

There are sands of men who would trade their votes gladly for these inequalities.

JUST LIKE FALLING OFF THE WATER WAGON.

THE KIBOSH ON GENIUS.

Congressman Stanley Bowdye, of Cincinnati who retires from congress after serving one session in which he acquired more fame than most members do in three or four terms, gave a resume of his impressions of public life to a correspondent, in the course of which he made this statement:

"One may pussyfoot into, through, and out of congress," he said, elaborating the idea. "Too many do this. I repeat, most public men are scared to death. Congress needs men willing to wear hobnail shoes. The fact is that pussyfooting in public life has resulted from the great number of 'leagues,' 'committees,' and 'organizations' which now exist. It is these leagues, committees and organizations that now wear the lives out of public men. They leave little space for the play of individuality. A threat from Wayne Wheeler or from Carrie Catt puts the kibosh on much genius."

"Genius that will not be kiboshed is badly wanted in these United States."

The truth of this is so apparent that no sane man will question it. It has come to such a pass that we have men banded together for this and that purpose, some good, some bad, but all fondly active when it comes to a question of brow-beating a legislator, whether great or small. Let a liquor measure come up and the anti-saloon leagues and the liberal leagues set out to bedevil and bulldoze and bluff the men so unfortunate as to sit in legislative halls. Each side threatens dire vengeance if the legislator does not vote as it dictates, and with many timid men these threats are potent. They vote, not as their convictions would indicate, but as fear of reprisal indicates. Let a labor measure come up and the labor organizations on the one side and the manufacturers' associations on the other are at the elbow of the legislator, enjoining, pleading, bluffing, threatening. And so it goes down the line.

As Mr. Bowdye says "genius that will not be kiboshed, is badly wanted in these United States." He might go further and say that steps should be taken to put a kibosh on so many leagues, etc., in so far as their activities against legislators are concerned.

A GREAT SERMON.

(Bluefield Telegraph)

That was a great sermon the entombed miner, Hugh McMillen, wrote when he was awaiting death in the pit of the Layland mine, in West Virginia.

"I am writing to my wife, Mary, to bring up the kiddies loving their Saviour as I am now. Now our sins creep up in our faces in a time like this."

Could any man get more into a few words? "Now our sins creep up in our faces in a time like this," and he wanted the children to be taught the way to escape the result of sins and shortcomings. He did not think of his little earthly belongings that he was leaving, but his last will dealt with greater things.

The Comin' Man
A pair of very chubby legs,
Increased in scarlet hose.
A pair of little stubby boots,
With rather doubtful toes;
A little kilt, a little coat
Cut as mother cut—
And lo! before us stands in state
The future's coming man.

His eyes perchance will read the stars,
And search their unknown ways;
Perchance the human heart and soul
Will open to their gaze;
Perchance, their keen and flashing glance

Will be a nation's light—
Those eyes that now are wistful bent,
On some boy fellow's kite.

Those hands, those busy little hands,
So sticky, small and brown,
Those hands, whose only mission seems

To pull all order down—
Who knows what hidden strength may be
Concealed within their grasp,
Though now it's but a totterstick,
In sturdy hold they clasp.

and more enduring results than the conveyance of houses and lands, if he had such. He left the "kiddies" a father's hope that when the time came the horrible shapes of transgression would not creep up in their faces.

Roanoke citizens have organized a co-operative ice company and will build a modern up-to-date ice plant. It claims to have made investigation and says that it will furnish ice to all for 25 cents per hundred pounds, delivered. It is claimed that ice can be manufactured and sold at that price at a good profit.

Ah! blessings on those little hands,
Whose work is yet undone;
And blessings on those little feet
Whose race is yet unrun;
And blessings on the little brain,
That has not learned to plan
What e'er the future holds in store,
God bless the coming man!

THE ILLNESS OF CLARENCE CRAB

For days and days young Clarence Crab, who lived down by the sea,
Had been as disagreeable as any Crab could be.
It's true that at the best of times his temper was a trial,
But everyone agreed it had been worse for quite a while.

At last his patient mother said, "I'm really at a loss
To understand why you are so particularly cross;
I do not think that you can be real well, my dear; I feel
That I had better send at once for good old Doctor Eel."

And although Clarence kicked and screamed, it did no good at all.
His mother sent for Doctor Eel, who came at once to call.
Said he, "I got here just in time; stick out your tongue, my lad.
There's something wrong with your child whose temper is so bad."

"And now I'll have to feel your pulse," said Dr. Eel. "Be quick.
Then all at once young Clarence Crab played a disgraceful trick.
For with his claw he gave the Eel a really fearful nip;
The good old doctor cried in pain, "This child has got the grip!"

"He'll have to go to bed and stay, how long no one can tell;
Give him these bitter pills until he dies or else gets well;
And eating will be bad for him because he is so cross,
The only thing that he can have is thin crab-apple sauce."

Said Mrs. Crab, "I cannot tell how bad this makes me feel,"
"I'm suffering from it more than you," said good old Doctor Eel.
So Clarence Crab was put to bed without another word,
Where he may still be to this day, for all I've ever heard.

But whether he is still in bed, or whether he is out,
He's sorry now that he was cross, I really have no doubt;
It got him into trouble and it didn't help a bit,
So next time you and I feel gross, let's just get over it.

VERDICT IN M'CALL CASE GOES TO THE DEFENDANT

After several hours' deliberation the jury in the damage suit of Dr. E. O. McCall against the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light Company returned a verdict for the defendant Wednesday evening. During the afternoon Judge Stephenson overruled two motions of the attorneys for the defendant to direct the jury to return a verdict for the defendant.

Arguments of the attorneys took up the greater portion of the time of the hearing Wednesday, the testimony having been adduced Tuesday. Attorneys A. R. Johnson of London, and Stanley McCall, of this city, represented McCall, and Mr. Miller and Searl the street railroad company.

HAS DEVISED LOCK FOR AUTOMOBILES

Walter Thissen, who is employed as a machinist by the N. & W., has devised a lock for automobiles that once put on an auto and set, there is no possible danger of his car ever being stolen. There is no key of any kind to this lock and it is attached to the pipe that carries the gasoline from the tank to the engine and has to be set by figures before he can get his gasoline to start. The engine and each lock is set by a different number, and the owner of the car has to know the number before he can start his engine. It is said to be a very clever device.

OBJECTS TO PASTOR'S STATEMENT, ARRESTED

For disputing with Rev. Rice, who has been conducting a religious meeting at Pullerton, a warrant was sworn out in Squire Braden's court Wednesday for arrest of Henry Colburn.

Arraigned before Squire Braden, Colburn pleaded not guilty and bond was fixed at $100. He gave bond and was released. Rev. Rice alleges in affidavit that Colburn disputed with him while he was preaching and incidentally all but broke up his services.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCK

New York, March 11.—Stocks displayed generally steadiness today with increased activity and higher prices in the specialties.

Prices continued to improve after the initial period of uncertainty traders taking courage from the successful out come of the state bond sale, decreasing tension in the Mexican situation and announcement of more gold imports from the Orient, which now amount to a substantial sum.

Shares of Eastern trunk lines were in moderate demand. Erie issues rose concurrently with the offering of the new $10,000,000 five per cent extended notes. New high record for exports also was a helpful factor. Motor shares continued to lead the special group, with further material gains. Bonds were steady.

Irregularity was again the feature of the stock market in today's early trading, with nominal price changes. Leading shares were either lower or at a standstill, while the speculative specialties and the inactive group of notes further poor manipulations.

American Smelting was the only prominent stock to show a gain of more than a slight fraction, advancing 1/4 of a point. Prices manifested a hardening tendency later. London's rate for American was generally under yesterday's close.

Automobile shares and low priced railroad stocks were bought in the late dealings. Profit taking occurred in steel and other favorites. The closing was firm.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, March 11.—Wheat prices weakened today in sympathy with a decline at Liverpool. The outlook for larger shipments from Argentina counted against the bulls and so also did the outlook for progress in opening the Darienelles. There was disappointment for holders, too, in the falling off in the number of vessels chartered for grain at New York. Opening prices here varied from 1/4 to 3/4 off and were followed by only a moderate reaction.

Corn rallied after an early sag due to the downturn in the wheat market. Country offerings to arrive were unusually small. After 1/4 to 1/2 lower, the market ascended to above last night's level. Comparative strength was shown by oats. Signs of a substantial shipping demand were in evidence.

Larger receipts of hogs through out the west had a depressing effect.

Shoved Off Train By Tramps And Is Fatally Injured

William Ratcliffe, of Eighth street, left Thursday for Ashland, Ky., being called there by the tragic death of his cousin, Norman Gullett, aged 24, and who was employed as a brakeman by the C. & O.

In a dying statement, Gullett stated that a hobo shoved him between two cars and his death soon ensued from injuries he sustained. The hobo asked Gullett to hold his lantern up so he could see to get off the train and as he did so he claims the tramp shoved him between the cars and his skull was fractured and both legs mashed and mangled by wheels of his train.

MAKES SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST A CHAUFFEUR

The case of Jim Turner, a colored chauffeur, for alleged trespassing on the premises of E. M. Johnson, white, of Oakland avenue, was continued by the mayor until Friday morning, because of the absence of witnesses.

Johnson told the mayor that Turner had entered his back yard Wednesday night. He himself, and his wife, when his wife came and told him she had seen a man prowling about the yard while she was in the kitchen and that he was occasionally throwing rays from a searchlight. Johnson said he at once got up and followed the prowler several blocks, finally recognizing him as Turner, but in order to make sure of it, stopped a colored boy and asked him who the negro was. He had just seen him, and the boy said it was Jim Turner, expressing surprise that he (Johnson) did not know him.

Johnson informed the mayor that Turner persisted in trying to force his attentions upon his wife. He said he was in a habit of driving past their home frequently in an automobile, would stop the machine nearby under the pretext of adjusting it, back the car up in front of the house, tout the horn and otherwise try to attract his wife's attention.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon, apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of dandruff, leaving your hair clean and healthy.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

U. S. WILL PROTEST

The general rule that has been applied is that a belligerent warship must take its prizes into port unless there are controlling reasons, such as unseaworthiness, lack of a prize crew, danger of recapture and the presence on board of a cargo of contraband which would make certain its condemnation by a prize court. The commander of the belligerent vessel must preserve the neutral ship's papers and bring them to a prize court for the entering of a decree.

Contraband Cargo Does Not Justify Sinking

In the Russo-Japanese war, the United States protested to the Russian government against the sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander with an American cargo in Far Eastern waters. The crew testified that the vessel had been sunk for want of coal to proceed to Vladivostok and the United States considered that the sinking of the vessel was not justified by the bare facts that there was contraband of war aboard.

The fact that what is conditional contraband that a ship would be liable to condemnation only if it was proved that its cargo was destined to the belligerent forces of an enemy and that no opportunity was afforded for the furnishing of evidence, make officials believe that the case of the United States against Germany is a strong one.

During the Russo-Japanese war Great Britain maintained a long and vigorous correspondence with Russia on rights of a captor of a neutral ship to sink it if it was difficult or impossible to take it into port.

Great Britain declared such measures would occasion a complete paralysis of all neutral trade and characterized them as "contrary to acknowledged principles of international law" and "intolerable to all neutrals."

Neutral Commerce Not Subject To General Deprivation

John Bassett Moore, former counselor of the state department in reviewing those discussions said correspondence "served to emphasize potentially the important relation of the question of contraband to the question of destruction."

"When publicists have spoken of the presence of contraband," he wrote, "as justifying or excusing the destruction of a neutral ship that could not be brought

Protests Innocence

Lawrence Johnson, the East End youth whom James W. Smith, of High street, accused of robbing him of a pocket-book and between $20 and $30, was still insisting Thursday that he was innocent. The youth's mother called at the mayor's office Thursday morning and declared her intention of prosecuting Smith for alleged furnishing liquor to her son, who, she said, was not "altogether right."

Wants Sewer

The mayor is in receipt of an earnest appeal from Mrs. Mary Frovine, of No. 1412 Eleventh street, for a sanitary sewer in the vicinity of her home. He assures her that as soon as the North End, or Sixth ward sewer, is covered, the relief asked for will be given and that the installation will be within the next few weeks.

In New Home

Mr. and Mrs. John Steiger have moved into their newly purchased home on Eighth street, just east of John street.

A SAFE WAY TO STOP INDIGESTION

Without Fear of Weakening the Stomach—Works Fine in Any Case and Brings Relief in Ten Minutes.

The greatest folly of today is committed by people with weak digestive stomachs who take artificial dietetics in one indulgence.

Artificial dietetics—pale pills, etc.—simply encourage a lazy or tired stomach to shirk its work by doing most of its work for it. This is fine for a time but as every chronic dyspeptic knows, artificial dietetics soon lose their efficiency. Where one gets the trick here or there are unacquainted and the poor old stomach itself is worse off than ever.

Your stomach must be strong enough to expand and contract with a sort of churning movement so as to mix its digestive juices with your food. If your stomach isn't strong enough to properly churn your food, you will keep right on having indigestion after every meal until you take it wrong.

There is only one stomach remedy that every dyspeptic can depend on as sure as that the sun will rise tomorrow and that is the famous old MI-O-BA Stomach Tablets. Most stomach remedies let the stomach rest and digest the food themselves. MI-O-BA won't digest anything, but it will strengthen and stimulate the stomach and make it do its own digesting. It stops stomach pains, gas, bloating, burning, belching, etc., in ten minutes and does still better by making the stomach, inflamed and inactive stomach walls grow strong and elastic and able to do their own churning. MI-O-BA never loads their effort and unlike more artificial dietetics need not be taken forever. A few weeks' use is generally sufficient to put any stomach in the shape and Wurstler Bros., and many other leading druggists hereabouts sell it with that understanding, agreeing to refund money to anyone who does not get complete relief.

BRITISH HEADWAY

This advance was unexpected, as lately the principal activity reported from the British front has been in the direction of the other end of the line near Ypres. The British are now within two miles of the furthest point gained by General Sir Horace L. Smith-Dorrien last October when, with one army corps, in an effort to gain Poperinghe, on the road between LaBasse and Lille, he forced his way as far as Abbeville, two miles to the northeast of Neuve Chapelle, but after desperate fighting against tremendous odds was forced to retire.

Fighting in the East

Favorable To Germans

News dispatches reaching here from Berlin report the failure of the Russian attempt to break through the German lines at Angulo, while the battle of Ostrova continues. According to this information, which is from official sources, the fighting to the northwest and west of Przasnysz is developing favorably for the Germans.

The British admiralty continues silent concerning the operations in the Dardanelles, but reports given out in France set forth that armored ships have penetrated the narrows of the straits. It is not considered likely, however, that the attack will be pressed until land forces occupy both sides of the straits. That such land forces are almost ready for this task is indicated by the report that a great French transport fleet has been sighted off Malta.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

A marriage license was issued Thursday morning to Frank Keller, 43, a general house cleaner, and Victoria Williams, 32, both colored, of this city. Rev. John Trevis, pastor of Allen Chapel, officiated at the ceremony.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.

TREMPER HAS BILL

Would Open Way For Coal And Iron Ore Traffic

"This bill will give a great impetus to the canal movement, as endorsed by commercial organizations in most large cities of the state," said Senator Tremper. "It would open a way by which people in counties near the proposed route can help in financing the work. The canal would carry the iron ore of Minnesota to the furnaces of the Mahoning and Ohio rivers at less than half the present cost. It would carry the coal of Southeastern Ohio and West Virginia to Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula, Lorain, Cleveland and Toledo, at an equal reduction.

Rapid Improvement Of Ohio River Would Follow

"I think this proposition would prove a satisfactory means of adjusting the differences in coal rates between Ohio and West Virginia coal producers. It will mean a further and rapid improvement of the Ohio river and all its tributaries. It will make the district extending from Toledo, Cleveland and Ashtabula to Youngstown, Pittsburgh, Wheeling and Cincinnati, the manufacturing center of the country.

"It is regarded as a certainty that the work of constructing the canal will be begun next year."

MISS FITZGERALD IN 3000 FEET OF REAL COMEDY

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60. Residence A-890.

ogized and promised to be more considerate of your feelings in the future.

Dear Miss Wise.—As I have read in the Times so much of you giving others good advice, I have come to you for the same. I am 18 years old and have a fine looking fellow away from here. I love him with all my heart and we are engaged, but he doesn't come to see me very often. Now Dolly do you think he cares for me? I hear from him every day. He says he loves me. Now Dolly do you think he does? He does not drink or chew and works hard all the time, but he is high tempered.

BLUE EYES.
He surely must think lots of you when he writes to you every day. If he has a steady job he can't come to see you very often. As a rule working people do not get but one vacation a year. You ought to know that if he asked to get off every week or so, he would soon find himself minus a job.

Dear Miss Wise.—I have a young gentleman friend who is perfectly dippy about me. I do not like him any better than any other fellow. What shall I do to prevent him from thinking too much of me?
SUSIE.

If the young man talks to you about how much he cares for you tell him that you do not and cannot return his love. Do not let him call often and when he does come show him by your attitude that you are indifferent.

Dear Dolly.—Will they celebrate Decoration Day and the Fourth of July and also Halloween on Saturday?
JOHN.

When holidays fall on Sunday they usually celebrate on Monday.
WOULD B. PAT.

Exercise and dieting will reduce your weight a little, if you keep it up long enough. But why reduce? Why not be satisfied and happy as you are? If you were thin you would want to get fat again. Hard work, such as washing and scrubbing will harden the muscles.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am a girl of sixteen and go out with a gentleman of twenty-one. He only comes once in a while and does not make dates with me. He expects me to call him up and make dates with him. Is it all right? The last time I did it he seemed annoyed.
GRACE.

A girl can make herself very obnoxious to a boy by phoning him, dearie. Do not do it. Let the boy seek you.

Dear Dolly.—Will you please tell me how to eat a club sandwich?
ROBIN HOOD.

With a knife and fork. You can find out the other question by calling up the office of the company.

Dear Dolly.—When walking along the street with a boy or girl friends and they bid the time to some one who might pass by, is it necessary for me to tip my hat, if I do not know the person?
BILLY.

Yes, Billy. That is a courtesy extended to all women whether they are friends of yours or not.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am a girl passed 15 years, weigh 100 pounds, and am 5 feet, 2 inches tall. Do you think I am old enough to wear my dresses nearly to my shoe tops? How should I comb my hair? Do you think I am old enough to keep company once in a while, as I have a very nice boy friend and I am a sensible girl. My people do not care, but as my mother has been dead for so long, for I was only five years old when she died, so I will come to you for advice. I do all of the work at home about the house and garden, as I am a country girl. I also go to school.
HARDWORKING KID.

Grown-ups do not wear their dresses much below the shoe tops nowadays. Arrange your hair any way that it is becoming. Why not let it hang down your back in one or two braids? You are not old enough to get steady company, even if your people do not object, and please do not allow boys to call on you unless there is some older relative there with you. If you do longings will soon begin to wane. Besides it is not the proper thing to do.

Dear Miss Dolly Wise.—I would like to have some information as how to have my clothes made and how to comb my hair. I am about fifteen. I am in the 8th grade and study hard. I have a fair complexion. Should I use powder? How old should a girl be before she keeps company? Will middie blouses and white slippers be in style this summer? How is my spelling and writing?
SCHOOL GIRL.

Why not ask your mother such questions? I do not know what would be becoming to your style of beauty. You are too young to use powder. Middie blouses are always worn by young girls. Good.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about 80¢ as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup. Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint-bottle and fill the bottle with plain water. Stir well. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold right away that means business. It quickly loosens the dry houses or tight membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent hoarse cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes. The effect of Pinex on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norwegian pine extract combined with menthol and other natural healing principles.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

Either Way—Drugs Are Harmful!

If a coffee drinker, have you stopped to think that, with every cup of coffee, you are taking from two to three grains of caffeine, a slow, but powerful, drug?

According to medical authorities, caffeine is a cause of nervousness, heart trouble, indigestion, constipation and other ailments. It's a cumulative drug, and what's more, a habit-forming drug.

Sometime, when the coffee-drug gets in its tricks, you'll realize the harm it does; but wouldn't it be better to avoid trouble—stop coffee now and use Postum?

It is a pure food-drink, made from selected wheat and a little wholesome molasses, carefully roasted, ground and skillfully blended. This gives it a happy taste much like that rich, old Java, but Postum is absolutely free from caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient.

Postum comes in two forms:—Postum Cereal—requires boiling—15c and 25c pks.

Instant Postum—a soluble form—no boiling required—made instantly in the cup with hot water—30c and 50c tins.

The difference is only in the form. Both kinds are equally wholesome and delicious and the cost per cup is about the same. Be sure to ask for the kind you want.

ELKS REVERENCE THE MEMORY OF H. S. GRIMES; OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Portsmouth Elks at their meeting Wednesday night paid fitting reverence to the memory of one of their charter members and a man, who had always been very active and energetic in behalf of Elksdom in Portsmouth, the late Mr. Harry S. Grimes.

Pretty tributes were paid Mr. Grimes for the unswerving interest he always manifested in the proceedings of the lodge and the chairs were ordered draped in mourning for 30 days as a token of esteem to Mr. Grimes. The Portsmouth lodge of K. P. O. Elks, last one of its most progressive and best liked members when death stilled the heart of Mr. H. S. Grimes.

The Elks held their annual election of officers Wednesday night with the following results: Delegate to Grand Lodge, Orin B. Oakes; Alternate to Grand Lodge, Will J. Meyer; Exalted Ruler H. Stanley McCall; Esteemed Leading Knight, Thomas K. Brushart; Esteemed Loyal Knight Paul Davidson; Esteemed Lecturing Knight, Anselm Skelton; Secretary, Clarence Nodler; Treasurer, George E. Krieger; Trustee, J. T. Carey and Tiler, Thos. B. Nichols.

The death of Mr. Grimes caused a vacancy to exist in the trustees and at an election held last night J. F. Carr was named to fill Mr. Grimes unexpired term. Committees were named to look after the series of excursions which will be given this summer on the steamers Island Queen and Homer Smith. The annual installation exercises will be held on Wednesday, March 24. Several applications were received last night and an initiation will be held shortly.

Rev. W. H. Christian Delivered A Sermon

The duty of personal service for Christ and the church on the part of professed Christians was emphasized in the special Lenten sermon of Rev. W. H. Christian of Georgetown, former pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of this city, at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening.

His text was taken from Luke 14th chapter, 24th verse, "Go out and compel them to come in," a command of Jesus. He urged the need of more personal service on the part of church workers, and emphasized the importance of that service.

The opening devotional service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. John W. Dunning, while H. M. F. Kinsey led the congregational singing. Owing to the illness of Fred Lorey the men's quartette did not sing, but the quartette will sing at the second special service next Wednesday evening, when Rev. John S. Bapp, of Manchester, will preach. Rev. Bapp has often preached to the congregation of the First Presbyterian church, and is well known and highly regarded here.

Rev. Christian was warmly greeted by his old friends while in the city Wednesday. He was a guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. John W. Dunning.

One Candidate.
At the meeting of Portsmouth Lodge No. 416 I. O. O. F. held on Wednesday night, one candidate, Robert Wallace, was initiated.

Experienced Women Advise Mother's Friend

Because it is so perfectly safe to use and has been of such great help to a host of expectant mothers, these women, experienced in this matter, happily advise the use of "Mother's Friend". Applied externally to the abdominal muscles its purpose is to relieve the undue tension upon the cords and ligaments resulting from excessive expansion. Beneath the surface is a network of fine nerve threads and the gentle soothing action of "Mother's Friend" is designed to soothe the muscular fibres as to avoid the unnecessary and continuous gnawing upon the myriad of nerves. It is a relief to the breast and affords the proper massage to prevent clogging. Thousands of women have reason to believe in the wisdom of "Mother's Friend" and its nearly every town and village is a grandma who herself used it in earlier years. Expectant mothers are urged to use this splendid assistant.

MOTHER! GIVE CROSS, SICK CHILD ONLY "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

No matter what ails your child a laxative should be the first treatment given. Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign your "little one's" stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When a cross peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, eyes full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs", and in just a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless fruit laxative. Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs", which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

CONFIRMATION CLASS
The rector's confirmation class for adults will meet at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow (Friday evening) at his office on Fourth street. It is important that all candidates for confirmation who are members of this class should be present.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH

The Rev. J. D. Herron, D. D., rector of Hartwell, Cincinnati, was the special preacher at the evening service at All Saints' church at night. He preached a very helpful and instructive sermon on the "Hurd saying of the Blessed Lord." There was a good congregation present and Mr. Herron was kept busy shaking hands with old friends at the conclusion of the service. For 13 years previous to the coming of the Rev. E. Ainger Powell to Portsmouth, the Mr. Herron was rector of All Saints' church. He was responsible for the introduction of the vestal choir which he directed as long as he remained in the city. A notable feature of the service last night was the fact that the hymns were sung to tunes written by Dr. Herron. While in the city he is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Powell at the rectory.

He was the celebrant at the 9 a. m. service of the Holy Communion this morning. There was a splendid attendance at this service also.

The Rev. Dr. Flinchbaugh, rector of Calvary church, Cincinnati, will be the special preacher at the Lenten services at All Saints' church tomorrow, Friday, evening. Dr. Flinchbaugh is one of the most prominent men in the diocese, a good preacher and has many charming qualities. It is his first visit to All Saints and the rector confidently anticipates that there will be a very large congregation present to greet him. It is almost certain that this will be the case as the attendance at all services this Lent has been splendid.

SCIOTOVILLE BOOMING

John Jefferson visited Sciotoville Wednesday and was greatly impressed with the general hustling appearance of that rapidly growing village.

John reports that Sciotoville is enjoying a healthy building boom and lots which not so long ago were held at $250 are now bringing $650. The Dravo Contracting company has a big force of men engaged on the C. & O. bridge job.

PRAYER SERVICE POPULAR

The prayer-meeting of Allen Chapel A. M. E. church seems to be getting very popular. The way the members and congregation are turning out in such large numbers, almost a hundred attending the meeting last night. The meeting was conducted by Mr. Thomas Slade. The chief feature of the evening was the singing. Some of the beautiful hymns were well rendered and good prayers were offered by many members. At the close of the prayer-meeting a love-feast was held.

Your Need Is Much Mercy Not A Little

SAYS REV. ALBERT L. MARTING

Using as a text Psalms 52:8, "I will trust in the mercy of God forever and ever." Rev. Marting preached a forceful sermon last night at the Fourth Street A. M. E. church. He said among other things: Mercy is not goodness. It is the opposite of justice, while goodness is a part of justice. Mercy pre-supposes guilt. It is a sin that calls upon God's mercy. Hope in justice must be abandoned if you want mercy. Excuses must be dropped if you hope for clemency. Confess your sin before God. Tell him you're sorry. Only so can you hope for pardon. You must about face, away from sin and toward God, if you expect to trust in His mercy. It can't help you if you don't. God helps those who help themselves. Don't make the mistake of trying to hide your sins. You can't do that with God. Don't ask God for justice either. If he gives you that, you are done for. It's mercy you need. And it's a heap of mercy you need, too, not just a little sprinkling. If you hope to trust in God's mercy forever and ever, you had better begin today.

Servants tonight at 7:15. All are invited. Subject: "The Striving of the Spirit." Good music.

WANT THEIR MONEY

R. E. Milligan, of the New York Continental Jewell company, spent Thursday here seeking to secure the firm's final estimate on its contract outside of the final estimate reserved for a year on its filtration plant job.

Mayor Frick assured the visitor that the city administration was only striving to be fair with the people and with the company at the same time. He said he realized the company was a good one and that its sub-division of the work was substantially completed but demanded that Engineer J. P. Witmer first come on the ground and check up the division and advise the board of control as to the completed or uncompleted parts.

Following the conference the mayor sent Mr. Witmer a telegram asking him to come to the city for that purpose. Mr. Milligan meanwhile going to St. Louis and expecting to stop over again on his return East. The mayor told him that the city would demand a bond from the company equal to the sum of money the city might now pay the firm to guarantee that the company will remedy any possible defects and do what is expected of it, thus making the city doubly secure.

The city board of control at a meeting Thursday morning formally awarded the contract for grading and leveling the Greenlawn cemetery addition to Frank Seymour. He will begin work at once.

Paid Tribute To Mr. Gentry

Relative to the death of the late Jacob Gentry, father of Prof. E. M. Gentry, of the Eleventh street school of this city, the American Baptist of Louisville, Ky., said:

"With a sad heart we chronicle the death of our friend and brother Jacob Gentry, whom you well know, he was a member of long standing with the Howard's Creek Baptist church and truly I believe a christian gentleman."

"He was a successful farmer having sold his little farm on Howards Creek. A few years ago he bought a farm of more than a hundred acres just over the line of Clark in Powell county where like the early woodsmen he cut timber and sawed lumber and built for himself and family a beautiful home, soon after which the Death Angel came and called to rest Sister Gentry his beloved wife, Bro. Gentry was in the city two days last week mingling with friends, the writer had a long talk with him. We had heretofore talked about farming and farm products but this time we somehow talked about religion and the cross of Jesus we reasoned with each other how necessary it was for us as good soldiers of Christ to stand on guard that in our frailty we were apt to be called away at any time. We parted hoping to see each other soon."

"To my surprise the news came Saturday night that he had worked all day, came to the house and died suddenly 'Asleep in Jesus.' There was not a man white or black in Clark county who would not rely on Jacob Gentry's word, his word was his bond. Truthful, sober, upright he leaves a large family of children all grown, several brothers and sisters to mourn his demise, he has two sons at Lincoln Institute his elder son, Prof. Emory Gentry, is principal of the Eleventh Street school at Portsmouth, O."

Mrs. Joseph Seger, of Eighth street, is able to be up after a severe siege of pneumonia.

SPLENDID EXHIBITS MARK SPRING OPENINGS IN MANY LOCAL STORES, FLOWERS AND MUSIC IN PROFUSION

Spring of 1915 with her stylish attire of millinery and garments makes her formal debut in Portsmouth tonight. Many local stores have dedicated hours between seven and nine tonight for the royal reception of the young season in all her beauty and attractiveness. Others will continue their openings on Friday. New styles, new models, new ideas accompany the introduction.

Strains of music will enhance the environments of attractive displays and artistic decorations at several of the stores. All Portsmouth is invited to attend and participate in the ceremonies.

ANDERSON'S OPENING

At seven o'clock this evening, with Prof. Mastropolo and his orchestra occupying the balcony and furnishing the music for the occasion, Anderson's will begin their annual Spring Opening, which will last all day Friday as well as between the hours of 7 and 9 this evening.

The Big Store has made extensive preparations for this event and with the new departments and new fixtures but recently added this great emporium will be a sight to compare favorably with stores in cities many times the size of Portsmouth. Especially attractive is the great second floor, but recently improved with over two acres of solid mahogany fixtures, and this beautiful section, long considered one of the most beautiful in the state, is now superb, and decorated with potted plants, cut flowers and hanging baskets presents an appearance positively stunning. It is our advice that not a person miss this magnificent section, which as most people know is the home of ready to wear garments for women and children. The apparel is of course on display revealing the very latest and newest creations from eastern and foreign hands.

The millinery section is sure to be a mecca for all the women and they will be greeted in a newly furnished and enlarged department with a display of new headgear that is very attractive. Looking at the displays, one is struck with the small size of the hats, as well as by the great number of flowers used for trimming. The shapes are mostly the English Walking Hat, the Shepherdess and the Puke Bonnets, and the colors, Sand, Putty, Kaiser Red, Regency Blue, Rose and Black and White. Particularly noticeable is the exhibit of children's hats which are displayed in a large glass case seen immediately upon entering the department.

Next to the millinery section comes the new art and children's departments, both models in modern store keeping and will undoubtedly attract considerable attention. The fixtures in these departments are the very latest and in merchandising, these being the first to be installed in the state of Ohio. The public will be invited to examine the workings of the new fixtures as well as the stock displayed.

The first floor presents a most beautiful appearance with its broad center aisle unobstructed by tables, and the counters, cases and ledges trimmed with individual displays of the new merchandise and backed with potted plants and cut flowers. In this section are found the new silks and dress goods displayed for close inspection, the fine flimsy levers of a hundred different patterns and the new white goods, so sheer and pretty as well as dress trimmings of various hues and shades. The toilet goods section too with its displays of the best in perfumes, etc., is a place of interest. The shoe section, presenting the new things in men's, women's and children's footwear should be visited by all persons attending this opening while the men will be interested in the displays of furnishings for their own use.

MARTING'S

Marting's store, as usual is wearing its gayest colors on the occasion of its annual spring opening, which will begin this evening at seven o'clock. Every department of the large store has felt the artistic touch of the decorator's and displayer's art, and the effect is most entrancing, especially to the feminine eye. All of the latest styles and modes in feminine dress are becomingly arranged, and cannot help but attract the eyes of the prospective shoppers.

The show windows invite more closer inspection inside, although they demand attention because of the attractive arrangement in which they are dressed.

Music will be furnished during the evening by the Merrill Saxophone orchestra, stationed on the second floor, near the court.

One department that will especially appeal to the visitors is the ready-to-wear department, where the most elegant assortment of suits, coats, skirts, dresses and waists, ever purchased by the firm are on display.

The suits are principally in tail-or-modes, made of gabardine, covers and serges. The jackets are straight cut, trimmed with pockets, buttons and the like, 26 to 30 inches in length. The skirts are mostly with close fitting tops, with wide flares and pleated bottoms.

The separate coats are of a wide range of styles, half to three quarters length, semi-fitted and with the full flare effect, made of gabardine, serges, covers, poplins and silks.

White coats are featured strongly in the display, in chinillas, cheviots and serges. These are to be worn in the early spring and summer.

Beautiful dresses in fashion's latest creations and colors are abundantly displayed. They include taffetas, failles, crepe de chine, crepe metecors, silks, linens, serges and covers. One prevailing style is the new silhouette with the waist line and halter effect, with the skirt very wide, mostly with flares and pleats. The more practical materials of gabardine, serges and linens, are made up in plainer style, and are very suitable for street and dress wear.

A feature of the dress line this year at Marting's is the assortment of stylish dresses for stout ladies for afternoon receptions and like affairs.

Never in its history has the firm shown such an elegant line of waists, including silks, laces, George crepes, crepe de chine, chiffon taffetas, and chiffons. They are in all the new colors, sand, putty, flesh, maize and all popular shades.

The separate skirts are mostly wool, poplin, chudah cloth and a great variety of silks, taffetas, messalines, and chiffons.

Large and small hats are being shown in the millinery department both being in popular favor. The small hats still run to the "Tipperary" and "Watch Your Step" sailor styles, while the larger hats are in the fancy shapes. Hats of hemp and Milan braid and the barnyard rough braid are being shown.

The popular colors are corse, rose, Russian Green, battleship gray and black and white. Flowers will be in abundance, while velvet ribbons in all colors were never better.

A BRUNNER & SONS

The formal spring opening of this progressive firm whose elegant store is located on Gallia street will take place tonight between the hours of seven and nine o'clock. Bedecked with potted plants and with cut flowers adding a touch of exquisite freshness the Brunner store is in perfect readiness for the opening. Music is to be furnished by the Gusto Trio. The firm has for two years been located in its finely equipped home and is one of the most successful up-town firms in the city.

Miss Margaret Flynn, a faithful employee has charge of the dress goods department and has had for many years. In this interesting department will be found all the new weaves and shades in dress goods which will be worn as "the thing" this spring in feminine attire. A profusion of novelties in dress patterns will be found fresh from the style centers of the East, all shades of crepes and gabardines, poplins and a matchless line of fancy silks all ready for critical inspection.

The firm's suit department is in charge of Miss Elizabeth McElmurray. In it is shown all the new coats of various shades and lengths. The Empire coat with a high waist line will be very popular. Fancy cheviots, poplins and the ever popular military suits will be shown in great numbers, especially in "battleship" grays and in sand and putty shades, which are quite the smartest and newest shades. Black and white suits will get their full meed of appreciation and the firm has a splendid line of these. Then there is the famous Chudah suits in all colors and which have had a big vogue in the east this spring. Of course the staple blues and blacks will have favor with those whose tastes run to the more conservative, despite the degrees of fashion.

A feature of tonight's opening will be the display of a hand crocheted bed spread valued at $350. It was crocheted by Mrs. Leonard Stegmann of this city and is worthy of close inspection. One hundred and thirty-two spools of thread of 200 yards each were used to make the beautiful spread.

LYNN & JONES

In their cozy quarters in the Sun theatre building Lynn and Jones are ushering in the spring millinery season with a comprehensive exhibit of the latest creations in hats. Formal opening of the season commenced this afternoon and will continue tonight and Friday. Shapes and fancies of every conceivable style, pronounced by the queens and kings of fashions, are to be found here in profusion. Attractive display windows herald the promises of the stock carried in the store.

Large shepherdess shapes, models of the 1830 styles, walking hats, Scotch and Belgian foraging caps, mushroom and bell-shaped semi-dress hats, helmet-shaped hats and many with veil effects—every style that is a delight to the eye and becoming to the wearer are to be found. In trimmings slender wreaths and garlands made of small flowers and fruits in pastel tint are dominant. Ribbons are used in countless different ways. Large head-ornaments made of small flowers, trich made up into bands, fringes, pompons and wreaths are also featured. For crown and brim decoration slender wreaths and garlands are used. Small hats are being favored but many large ones also in demand.

LIBERTY CLOTHING CO. With a complete and up-to-the-minute stock of millinery and ladies' ready-to-wear garments the Liberty Clothing company is inviting its patrons and friends and the citizens of Portsmouth to inspect their stock. Export buyers have brought from the eastern markets only the latest styles, models, materials and novelties. While this firm will conduct no formal opening it has its stock arranged for a convenient comparison and inspection and a visit to the store means an enjoyable one.

JOHN VOELKER & CO. All new styles and models in garments and fabrics are being offered for inspection at John Voelker's East End store. Productions of the world's designers in styles have been brought to Portsmouth and placed on exhibit at the disposal of Portsmouth citizens at this store. A cordial invitation is extended to all to visit the store.

THE FASHION While the Fashion is preparing for its removal sale, the display of spring stock of millinery and women's ready-to-wear garments is especially attractive and complete. Efforts to secure only the latest designs and best materials have been rewarded as the stock is decidedly up-to-date and original and complete.

MRS. CARTER BROWN Hats of varied description and originality reflecting all the latest spring and summer styles are to be found in profusion at Mrs. Carter Brown's. Beauty, neatness, comprehensiveness in display and rather strikingly artistic display window one of the most if not the best in the city. Yet the display window is only a harbinger of the many pretty creations and revelations of attractiveness on the interior of the store. Potted plants greatly enhance the beauty of the decorations while hats of different colors, shapes and variations vie with one another for recognition and variation.

Medium large shepherdess shapes of tulle, hemp and hair braid, rolling brim sailors, large crowned of coarse glossy barnyard straw; capelines raised at back and dented, walking hats with flat topped prominent crowns and engenic brims, drooping front and back, Scotch and Belgian foraging caps of fancy braids silk or other fabric or suede, with military trimmings; mushroom and bell shaped semi-dress hats of fancy braids, fabric faced, helmet shaped hats and tangles of suede, the demi-season hat par excellence; tudor toques, are all up to the minute styles on display at the opening which Mrs. Carter Brown will continue tonight and Friday.

MRS. ANNE REIS

The very breath of spring permeates the atmosphere at the millinery parlors of Mrs. Anne Reis, gay and sombre colors merge with the essence of cut flowers and the staid, inviting appearance of potted plants. An exceptionally large and complete stock of hats offers innumerable opportunities to delight the eye of woman. Diving models tonight will display very effectively the varied shapes, styles and ideas of spring millinery as conceived by the world's artists and reproduced in Mrs. Reis' millinery parlor.

Two very attractive window displays are commanding favorable attention. In one Mrs. Reis has hats displaying the new black and white effects with parasol to match; also an 1830 shape with pink and white trimmings. In another display she has the "Flowing veil" effect with parasol to match, also the transparent models, new bonnet shapes and a number in pink with rose trimmings. One large model in yellow leg-horn with ostrich and rose trimmings is commanding much favorable criticism. Strains of enticing music furnished by White's orchestra will complete the general delightful environments of opening night.

Right in the heart of the north Chillicothe street business section is to be found an ideal millinery and furnishings store. Mrs. Mary Hoffman is introducing all the latest novelties and ideas in spring millinery. WIECHEN'S

A display that is very attractive is to be found at Miss Minnie Wiechen's millinery store on Chillicothe street. There are hats in profusion, models that can not fail to elicit the most profound praise from the severest critic.

OOE

Miss M. A. Coe, also on Chillicothe street, has a splendid exhibit of the latest fads and fancies in millinery. Her millinery is the criterion of fashion and quality and all are invited to inspect the stock.

Formal openings at a number of the stores have been dispensed with this spring but greater care has been given to the selection of spring stocks. All of the displays are elaborate and attractive and include the latest creations in millinery, fabrics and ready-to-wear garments.

Portsmouth can point with pride to all of its millinery stores. The proprietors take personal interest in bringing the best of materials and the height of styles to Portsmouth and their stocks more than mirror the efforts extended. While no formal openings will be held, visitors and customers are cordially invited to visit the various stores about the city.

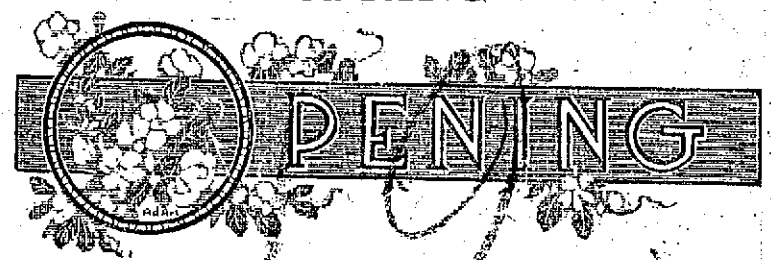

BRAGDON'S

Bragdon's display windows are characteristically original and inviting. Harry S. Boyd has exercised his personal ability and novelty in portraying the various spring styles in garments and fabrics. COMMITTEE HEARS MORE WITNESSES IN CITY PROBE; DEFENSE BEGINS ITS CASE

If they have any fears as to the outcome of the municipal probe into their official duties or personal conduct it was not manifested in the manner of Dr. Jos. Lake and Miss Helen Lowe, when the investigation was resumed Thursday afternoon, for both appeared to look and feel confident, and chatted pleasantly with their lawyers.

Before the hearing was resumed Chairman L. C. Turley dictated a statement to Mrs. Kate Walsh, the official stenographer. It was in effect that the committee had become convinced that it had gotten a little wrong Wednesday by drifting into the idea that there were two sides. The attorneys present he said were all attorneys for the committee and that later on the committee will be glad to learn from any person the names of persons who have information that the committee should know and they would be summoned. The committee desired truthful and reliable testimony and will welcome information that any previous witness had not told the truth. That does not mean that the committee wants hearsay evidence.

Rev. J. W. Dunning reported that he had made two efforts to see Tennessee Slater Thursday morning but received no response. He would try to see her again. He had seen another witness who had consented to tell privately the committee what she knew but the names were to be kept quiet for the present.

Mr. Turley said that in the interest of everyone the committee was anxious to finish the probe as early as possible but that a long list of new witnesses had been supplied by Attorney George Sheppard and all of these have been summoned.

Told About Women's Visit
Charles H. Hall was the first witness called. He knew nothing discreditable to Dr. Lake or Miss Lowe or the hospital generally. As to alleged clandestine visits of women to the safety director's office he testified having seen a Mrs. Price visit the office one night about 8 or 8:30 the last week in February. She had told him she was having trouble at home and had made arrangements to see Dr. Lake. She was in the office probably 15 minutes before he arrived. He said he saw Dr. Lake turn on the lights the instant he entered the office. They remained probably 15 or 20 minutes. He had not seen anything out of the way and could not say that Fred Baesman was there. He said the woman was accompanied by a younger woman or girl who he said boarded at the Page home. All efforts of Attorney Miller to secure an expression from the witness relative to Mrs. Price's reputation were futile, he repeatedly answering: "Got nothing to say."

The committee ruled that any citizen had a right to visit the director's office and that the witness need not answer the question. "Yes citizens have the right to visit the office during business hours," rejoined Mr. Miller.

Miss Tipton
Miss Katie Tipton of Sciotoville, who was employed at the hospital for a year as cook, quitting there December 16, 1914, was the next witness. She knew absolutely nothing discreditable to Dr. Lake or Miss Lowe. Asked if Dr. Lake's visits to the hospital became more frequent after Miss Lowe took charge, she replied: "Not that I know of."

"Just about the same the last four or five months," replied the witness. She said it was well known that he came once a day but she was in the basement most of the time and he could have been there without her knowing it. Asked if his visits were less prior to Miss Lowe taking charge she said she did not think so but "don't know that he came every day, twice a week I suppose or something like that."

The witness said she saw Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe visit the new cottage during the time of its building but had never seen them enter the cottage. Asked why they would visit the basement and boiler room she said: "I couldn't tell you what they were doing there. Yes, the dog was kept there. Never saw the dog upstairs. Yes, they would take the dog outside."

Said Miss Lowe Ran Place Better
Cross examined by Judge Blair she said the hospital was kept cleaner and better and run differently after Miss Lowe took charge. She said roaches were plenty before but she remedied all that. Miss Lowe, she said, seldom went out and was nice and kind to the girls. The victrolas and provisions were also kept better. She admitted it was her place to look after these, but prior to Miss Lowe's coming there was nothing there with which to rid the place of roaches.

Asked by Miller if the plan conceived by the mayor in making prisoners work out suspended sentences at the hospital was not really more responsible than anything else for the clean conditions at the hospital she said that these accomplished very little while Miss Lowe did more than her share even to scrubbing. She had never heard that Dr. Lake did not want Miss Lowe to do any scrubbing.

Miss Jones Saw Nothing Wrong
Miss Jennie Jones, of Fourth street, who graduated as a nurse February 23, was the next witness. She had spent two years at the hospital under three different superintendents. She never did see anything discreditable either to Dr. Lake or Miss Lowe and "never saw anything out of the way," she said. The conditions under their management were much better in the way of cleaning, ample equipment and every respect. Miss Lowe's discipline, she said, was very good and she was very strict.

The committee told her that one witness had said something about the nurses dancing in the hallways and otherwise disturbing patients. Miss Jones replied: "Well, I don't know that such ever happened. I know it wasn't in the hallway. The nurses might have been noisy in the office but don't think they disturbed any one. It's not true to my knowledge. Patients themselves make more noise than the nurses. They frequently remain about the hospital for weeks after they are able to be up and about. Yes, we have regular hours and take turns for recreation usually after dinner. It could have happened once but I'm sure Miss Lowe wouldn't have allowed it."

Turned over to Mr. Miller the witness was asked: "Know anything about a nice set of furs Miss Lowe received for Christmas?" "Yes," replied Miss Jones. "Who gave her the furs?" "Well, I understand that they were from the city office."

Did Dr. Lake Give the Furs?
"Now isn't it a fact that Dr. Lake presented Miss Lowe with the furs?" "I suppose he did, she never told me. No, I didn't know their value. I think they were dark and consisted of four neck-piece and muff."

Mr. Sheppard asked the witness if she ever observed Dr. Lake holding Miss Lowe by the arm. "Yes, usually in helping her up to the steps," she replied. The witness denied that there had been general talk about this among the nurses or that they ever discussed it, she saying: "Their conduct was never anything out of the ordinary. She denied having ever heard the remark among the nurses 'Better engage a veterinarian if you get sick.'"

Examined by Judge Blair the witness said she had never seen Dr. Lake at the hospital after dark except when on business. He would come with the service wagon bringing patients but was always accompanied by police officers.

Came At Night When Patient Was Crazy

One time when he came at midnight it was because of a patient going crazy. She admitted having seen Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe drive around the hospital and sit in the buggy for a short time talking. They had been down town shopping. She had never seen him bite off the same crackle. Had never seen them sleigh riding. She herself frequently accompanied Miss Lowe in making her semi-monthly reports and in making purchases.

She said Miss Lowe hardly ever went out and devoted almost her entire time looking after the hospital. She guessed the couch was removed to the attic for it was not there any more. Asked by Mr. Miller if it wasn't a nice leather couch she said: "It's a nice looking now." Mr. Turley was interrupted by declaring the committee was not interested in the character of the couch which provoked general laughter.

Asked again about the furs she denied that they had caused any talk for all of the girls received Christmas presents from patients and city officials. Asked by the committee if the nurses did not regard Dr. Lake's giving the present as acting as the representative for the city she said: "Yes, and we thought it all right."

A Good Name
Fannie Boggis, a student nurse, who has been at the hospital since one year ago last month, was the next witness called.

In answer to a query from Chairman Turley as to how the hospital under Miss Lowe's management compared with it under former superintendents, replied: "In my estimation, better."

"In what respects," was asked. "It is cleaner."

"Is the discipline good?" "It is."

Miss Boggis was asked if it was a common practice for the nurses to gather in the hall and make noise that disturbed the patients. She answered that occasionally there was noise in the hall, caused by heavy walking, but denied that there was ever any dancing or hilarity of any kind.

"Has Miss Lowe reprimanded the nurses for the noise?" was asked.

"She has some times."

Mr. Turley then asked: "Did you ever see anything in the conduct of Dr. Lake or Miss Lowe that was discreditable?" The witness answered, "No."

"Was the general attitude of Miss Lowe thoughtful toward the patients?" "It was."

"Did you ever know of an electric bell in one ward being out of order for a week or more?" "No, I never did."

Mr. Turley then asked again if she ever saw anything wrong in the conduct of the safety director and the superintendent, emphasizing the question. The witness answered, "No, I have not."

Mr. Strong then interposed with the question, "Do you know anything about Miss Lowe receiving a set of furs?" Yes, I do," she replied.

"Do you know who sent them?" "No, I don't."

"What was it?" "I don't know, but I think it was before Christmas."

"Any one else at the hospital receive presents at that time?" "I don't know."

Witness Is Cross Examined

The witness was then turned over to Attorney Sheppard. His first question was, "Did you ever see Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe go to the old cottage together?" "No."

"Did you ever see them go to the new cottage?" "Yes."

"Would he assist her by the arm?" "Yes, some times."

"Did you ever see them go out the rear door?" "No."

"Did you ever see them sitting in the buggy together?" "No."

"Who met Miss Lowe's mother when she came to visit her?" "I don't know."

"Did you see Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe cut off the same crackle?" "No."

"Did you ever see them in Miss Lowe's room together?" "No."

"Was it a common expression among the nurses that when they got sick they would call for a veterinarian surgeon?" "I never heard it."

"Didn't the nurses call Dr. Lake Miss Lowe's 'Joe'?" "I never heard them."

Judge Blair conducted the cross examination.

Also Got Gift From The City

"You were remembered with a gift by the city Christmas, weren't you?" he asked. "Yes," was the reply.

"What was the difference in the attention to patients after Miss Lowe became superintendent?" "She made daily visits to the patients."

"Did any other superintendent that you know of do that?" "I didn't see them."

"Do you know Miss Robinson?" "I do."

"When did you see her last?" "About ten days ago."

"Did you have a talk with her?" "Yes."

Tells Conversation With Miss Robinson

"Didn't she tell you that she couldn't say anything against Miss Lowe?" "She did."

"When Dr. Lake took hold of Miss Lowe's arm wasn't it to help her up the steps?" "It was, and also across the street."

"What business had he in the nurses' cottage?" "To exchange music."

"Before you had the player piano, didn't he superintendent reprimand?" "I think he did."

"You have been there during the entire time of Miss Lowe's superintendency?" "Yes."

The witness was then excused.

Lantz Knew Nothing
B. Frank Lantz, an ex-police man, who was next called, and never visited the hospital but once in his life and that was in taking a patient there, knew absolutely nothing discreditable to Dr. Lake and did not know Miss Lowe, he said. He had never seen any questionable visits of women to any city office. Asked by the committee if he had any idea as to why he had been summoned he said he did not unless it was that he had at one time been in the police force.

Mr. Sheppard had no questions to ask him nor did Judge Blair and the witness was excused.

The committee took the opportunity for admonishing all that care be exercised in summoning only such persons who were reasonably sure to possess some knowledge the committee ought to have. Mr. Sheppard explained it was understood Lantz did know something.

The name of Charles Ruhlman was now called but Sergeant-at-Arms Roy Moore reported that he could not be found. The committee ordered that it be advised as soon as he was located. Oliver Barney, of Glendale, Ky., Miss Maud Saunders of New Boston, and Olive Lemon and Flossie Stout were also reported absent.

Chairman Turley now remarked: "We are happy to say that this particular group of witnesses have been examined and we are now ready for the other side. We do not mean by this that the gales are down and that any and all witnesses who present themselves for either side will be heard until the investigation is finally closed."

Wished No Publicity

Rev. J. W. Dunning reported that there were two other witnesses who desired no publicity but would satisfy the committee by appearing before it and stating under oath that they did not know anything. From the mass of testimony coming in the committee felt, added Mr. Turley, that better results might be obtained at times if the committee followed other methods of procedure and certainly in this instance felt that by the committee privately seeing the two witnesses would do better than to drag them into the committee room in a formal condition.

It was announced at this juncture that when adjournment was taken it will be until 8 o'clock this evening.

The committee again warned officers to serve no subpoenas without authority from the committee.

First Witness For Defense

Dudley Morton, of near McCull, Ky., was the first witness called for the defense.

Mr. Morton himself removed the necessity for much questioning by volunteering to tell exactly what he did know. He said his wife had been a patient at the hospital for the past 5 weeks and he had visited her daily.

"She has had the best treatment possible, and I think the hospital is one of the greatest institutions this city has got. I don't know a thing wrong. The discipline is good. Never saw anything wrong between Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe. Saw them in the hospital office several times sitting on opposite sides of the room."

"Rotten Politics" Says Witness

"I think nothing more than dirty rotten politics has caused this."

The witness was restrained by the committee.

Examined by Mr. Sheppard the witness said he had never seen Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe visit the cottage together.

"I believe you're a Kentucky Republican, Mr. Morton?" now asked Judge Blair. "Yes sir," came the emphatic reply.

The witness said he attributed the fact that his wife was alive today to the splendid treatment she had received at the hospital.

He had occasion to go all over the building and had the chance to observe everything and said the institution was well kept.

Compliments Miss Lowe

Asked what Miss Lowe's attitude was toward the patients he said: "It was fine and all of the patients think lots of her."

The witness said that in the five weeks he was at the hospital he saw Miss Lowe go out but once and that was one day when she was going to get on a car. He had never heard the nurses make any noise and felt the nurses had too much to do for that.

Witness Was Mighty Mad

Attorney Sheppard had nothing to ask Mr. Morton, who was fighting mad by the time he reached the ante room, saying he would like to lick the man who started all this.

Mrs. Anstead On The Stand

Mrs. Minnie Anstead, visiting nurse for the Anti-Tubercular Society, was the next witness.

HOUSE IN SCRANTON DROPS INTO PIT OF COAL MINE; LAW HAS NO REDRESS

Home of P. J. Buckley of Scranton on fire after falling into mine cave early in morning. The family escaped by ladders lowered to attic window. The laws of Pennsylvania offer no protection against such an accident as is shown in the picture. When coal beneath a dwelling or school is sold, it may be taken out without reference to what happens above.

Miss Anstead had been a patient at the hospital for a week during January. Her treatment she said was of the very best. Never saw any sleight rides or misconduct between Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe. She said she held a diploma from the state hospital in Columbus, had spent three years in Dr. Cook's hospital in Cincinnati, spent a year at the city hospital in Anniston, Ala. and taken courses in other hospitals. She had also been a patient in St. Mary's hospital in Cincinnati besides visiting many others.

Praises The Hospital

The witness said in her judgment she had never seen any hospital better managed than is the present hospital under the present superintendent. "She seemed on the job all the time, if you will excuse the expression."

She said the nurses were quiet and sedate, the discipline was good and attention to patients the very best. The hospital is absolutely clean.

Asked by Mr. Sheppard if in visiting other hospitals she had ever observed nurses sitting on the beds of patients, she said that while she was a patient at St. Mary's in Cincinnati, the sister superior would sit on her bed.

Mrs. Anstead was still on the stand at the time of going to press.

Wednesday Night's Session

Further depositions were taken Wednesday evening in the municipal probe of Director Jos. Lake and the public safety department for the information of the probe committee.

The sworn statements of Mrs. James Routt and Miss Edna Wiget were taken, and a member of the committee stated Thursday morning that "The testimony of the former was unfavorable to Dr. Lake and the hospital, while Miss Wiget, who was a patient at the hospital the same time Mrs. Routt was, and who was thought to have seen things Mrs. Routt told about in most particulars, failed to corroborate Mrs. Routt."

The Times made efforts to secure a copy of the stenographer's transcript of the two depositions, but the committee ruled that such were not now to be given out. The depositions, the committee held, had been taken solely for the information of the committee, and the stenographer, Miss Louise Emmett, had been sworn for that reason. "This whole investigation, in fact, is for the information of the committee which reserved the right to make public only such information as it saw fit," said a member of the committee.

The Morning Star published Wednesday what purported to be the testimony of Mrs. Routt, which it said was given them verbally by one of the attorneys for the prosecution. The Star likewise carried part of the alleged testimony of Miss Wiget.

U. S. WILL MAKE SEARCHING INQUIRY INTO THE SINKING OF AMERICAN SHIP BY THE FRIEDRICH

ACTION OF GERMAN CRUISER VIEWED AS AN UNFRIENDLY ACT

Washington, March 11.—The following statement was issued at the White House today:

"The president when asked regarding the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye, by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, said:

"A most searching inquiry will be made and whatever action is taken will be based upon the result of that inquiry."

Washington, March 11.—Officials of the United States government today awaited a decision by the neutrality board on problems arising from the destruction of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich now at Newport News, before deciding on what action to take. A report was expected today from the collector of port at Norfolk, before whom the Frye's master and crew were to appear to tell their story of the vessel's capture and destruction.

Meanwhile, an immediate decision by the board "was looked for on the question of how long the German raider might remain in port to undergo repairs, and what disposition should be made of the more than 300 survivors of the various ships she had captured. Every indication, it was said, led to the belief that the cruiser's captain would elect to intern the ship until the end of the war.

Official Washington was stirred by the sinking of the Frye. Some officials asserted that the incident on its face bore the appearance of an unfriendly act which might result in diplomatic exchanges with Germany.

If the destruction of the Frye were considered "unfriendly," it was understood the United States probably would seek the usual honorable amends as well as reparation for the owners. Since the warship and her officers are under the jurisdiction of the United States, owners of the Frye and her cargo can institute libel proceedings to recover for loss of their property.

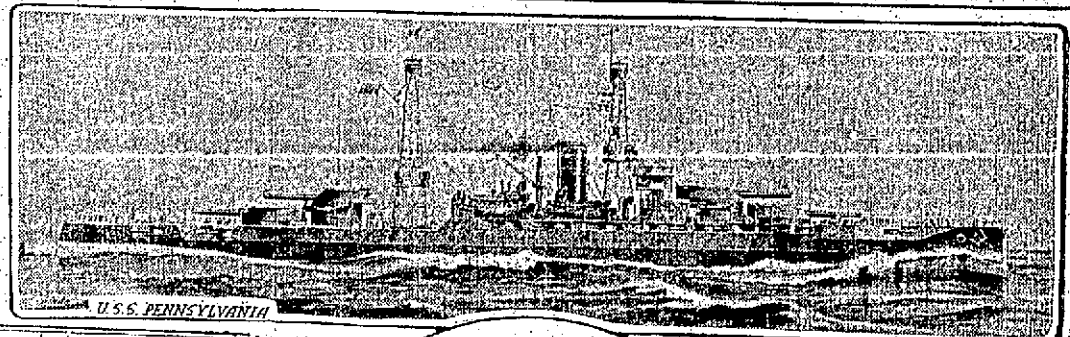

WILL ASK WHY AMERICAN SHIP WAS SENT DOWN

Newport News, Va., March 11.—The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich lay at anchor here today with full details of her long sea raid being awaited by instructions from the German embassy at Washington. The ship's capture of the American sailing ship William P. Frye, off the South American coast with 5,000 tons of wheat for England, Commander Thierichsen also was awaiting instructions from the German embassy at Washington and was expected to be on hand to be on hand to the British ship Wilhelmina, the French passenger ship Florida, the British ship Wilhelmina, the Isabella Dreyer, Russian ship, all sunk during February, and the French ship Jacobine, sunk January 28, and the French sailing ship Pierre Loti, the French passenger ship Florida who were permitted to remain ashore under guard of immigration officials.

The sudden arrival of the German cruiser in Hampton Roads and later at Newport News demoralized shipping from these ports, but two British ships late in the day, their commanders believing that the Eitel Friedrich would be interned, ventured to sea.

Newport News, Va., March 11.—Early today the band of the Eitel Friedrich was playing German national airs in celebration of the birthday of Commander Thierichsen, her captain. All but port officials were still barred from her decks.

At 9 o'clock this morning the Eitel had been in Hampton Roads six hours and no signs of any intention to move were apparent. British cruisers were again reported backing off the Virginia capes, and a boatman who delivered papers to officers of the German cruiser declared members of her crew had told him the Eitel actually had been chased into American waters by British cruisers.

CARRANZA PROMISES TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS IN THE MEXICAN CAPITAL

Washington, March 11.—General Carranza's formal reply to urgent representations of the American government relative to conditions in Mexico City, the text of which had been made public in Vera Cruz, was being deciphered today at the state department. The reply, which was directed to President Wilson personally and called in code, was received at the department late last night.

In his reply, as given out at Vera Cruz, General Carranza promised that foreigners in Mexico City would be afforded protection. His assurance to that effect, officials here confidently believed, would make it unnecessary for the American government to take any steps beyond those already taken.

Although officials said that the food situation in the Mexican capital continued to be serious, some of them appear to believe that there had been an improvement in a general way. Word of General Obregon's evacuation of Mexico City was being awaited and official advisers said that the American note had had a good effect in that city.

While up until early today no requests had come from Americans in Mexico City to the state department for transportation facilities, in response to the warning to quit that city, although efforts were being made by the department to provide them with transportation, if wanted.

Rome, March 11.—(Via Paris)—The Giornale D'Italia, commenting on the reported agreement between Italy and Germany, under which the former country would be at liberty to attack Austria, provided she is not granted certain territorial concessions, declared the move "fact that such an agreement ultimately would militate against Austria, which is fighting closely allied with Germany, proves the absurdity of such a plan."

JUST LIKE FALLING OFF THE WATER WAGON.

WHEN AN EDITOR WAS OUT OF SORTS.

The frontman, of Sunday morning, unlimbered itself and said a few part things about Portsmouth, said them in a cheerful, nonchalant sort of way that carried the impression that as a matter of course they were true. Of course if we were to say what we thought of what the frontman thinks about us, it might occasion hard feelings, and being a man of peace, we refrain. We just reprint some of the unkindest cuts that our vast army of readers can see what a mean editor can think of in a particularly devilish moment. Here are three samples:

"The Modern Woodmen at Portsmouth were surprised by their wives Friday evening. No harm done. It was after lodge hours."

"Portsmouth is to have a public bath house for school children. We had been hearing reports but never suspected it was as bad as all that."

"Portsmouth has plans under way for the raising of the flood defenses. Ironton is like the Arkansas traveler. We can't build defenses while floods are on and when there is no flood we don't need them."

A SUGGESTION SCORNE.

Seeing the complete unlikelihood of any attempt to remove the state capital from Charleston to any other city, several West Virginia papers have begun in concert to urge the construction of a capitol building that will be somewhat commensurate with the dignity and importance of the state. Strange to say it is a Charleston paper that leads in scorning the suggestion. According to it the present building, though somewhat over crowded with an ever increasing retinue of commissions and departments, is sufficient for present needs and a more commodious structure, would be but a provocation to the creation of more commissions, departments and bureaus. In this position it is quite correct, but still there stands that capitol building, that looks somewhat like a cross between one of these modern frisky high school buildings and a condensed milk foundry.

FARES REASONABLY WELL.

Fair women, and some not so fair, either in face or speech, continue to war upon "man-made laws" and demand her sex be put upon an equality with the manufacturers, in their enactments. According to the New York Tribune she may be asking for more than she wants. It has had two of the ablest lawyers compile statutes in which men and women are not placed on an equality and this is what they submit:

She is exempt from military service.

A married woman is not obliged to contribute toward the support of the family.

She may work and earn money and do with it as she pleases.

She may own real and personal property, and may sell or dispose of it as she pleases without her husband's consent. The husband cannot dispose of his real estate without his wife's consent.

She is not obliged to pay her husband's bills, even though they are for family expenses. The husband must pay her bills.

If through his fault she obtains a divorce the husband must pay alimony. But if through her fault he obtains a divorce she pays nothing.

She may be worth millions and cut him off without a cent in her will. He cannot cut off her dower right.

If he dies intestate leaving children they receive two-thirds and the widow one-third of his personal estate besides her "dower right" of one-third of his real estate. If she dies, leaving children, the husband is entitled to one-third of her personal estate, but nothing else.

If he owns the home in which they live he cannot sell or mortgage it without the signature of the wife. If she owns it she may do with it as she pleases.

If the husband fails to support her he may be arrested and prosecuted criminally. No matter how wealthy she is, or how sick or poor he is, the wife cannot be compelled to support him.

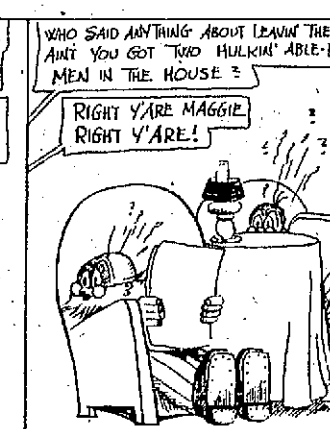

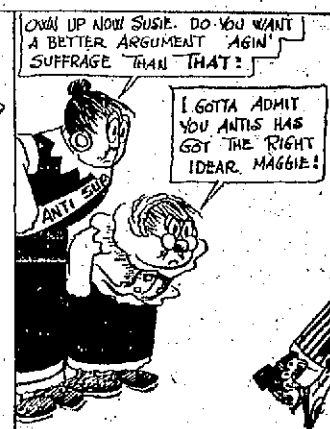

When a girl is married under 18 the man may be punished as an abductor if the parents' consent was not obtained. But there is no punishment for the girl, no matter how young the man may be.

Factory owners may not put women to work in their shops before 6 a. m. or keep them there after 9 p. m., nor may they force women to work more than fifty-four hours or six days a week. There is no such law for men employees.

In short, the law puts woman above man, nor denies her any statute which would improve her position, so that, if it be equality she wants she must "get down off the perch birdie" and stand on terra firma "just like the men."

There are scads of men who would trade their votes gladly for these inequalities.

POLLY AND HER PALS

THIS DISH WASHING ARGUMENT IS REALLY SERIOUS

The Comin' Man
 A pair of very chubby legs,
 Increased in scarlet hose,
 A pair of little stubby boots,
 With rather doubtful toes;
 A little kilt, a little coat
 Out as mother can—
 And lo! before us stands in state
 The future's coming man.

His eyes perchance will read the stars,
 And search their unknown ways;
 Perchance the human heart and soul
 Will open to their gaze;
 Perchance, their keen and flashing glances
 Will be a nation's light—
 Those eyes that now are wistful bent,
 On some boy fellow's kite.

Those hands, those busy little hands,
 So sticky, small and brown,
 Those hands, whose only mission
 To pull all order down—
 Who knows what hidden strength may be
 Concealed within their grasp,
 Though now it's but a toffestick,
 In sturdy hold they clasp.

and more enduring results than the conveyance of houses and lands, if he had such. He left the "kiddies" a father's hope that when the time came the horrible shapes of transgression would not creep up in their faces.

Roanoke citizens have organized a co-operative ice company, and will build a modern up-to-date ice plant. It claims to have made investigation and says that it will furnish ice to all for 25 cents per hundred pounds, delivered. It is claimed that ice can be manufactured and sold at that price at a good profit.

THE KIBOSH ON GENIUS.

Congressman Stanley Bowdle, of Cincinnati who retires from congress after serving one session in which he acquired more fame than most members do in three or four terms, gave a resume of his impressions of public life to a correspondent, in the course of which he made this statement:

"One may pussyfoot into, through, and out of congress," he said, elaborating the idea. "Too many do this. I repeat, most public men are scared to death. Congress needs men willing to wear hobnail shoes. The fact is that pussyfooting in public life has resulted from the great number of 'leagues,' 'committees' and 'organizations' which now exist. It is these leagues, committees and organizations that now scare the lives out of public men. They leave little space for the play of individuality. A threat from Wayne Wheeler or from Carrie Catt puts the kibosh on much genius."

"Genius that will not be kiboshed is badly wanted in these United States."

The truth of this is so apparent that no sane man will question it. It has come to such a pass that we have men banded together for this and that purpose, some good, some bad, but all flendishly active when it comes to a question of brow-beating a legislator, whether great or small. Let a liquor measure come up and the anti-saloon leaguers and the liberal leaguers set out to bedevil and bulldoze and bluff the men so unfortunate as to sit in legislative halls. Each side threatens dire vengeance if the legislator does not vote as it dictates, and with many timid men these threats are potent. They vote, not as their convictions would indicate, but as fear of reprisal indicates. Let a labor measure come up and the labor organizations on the one side and the manufacturers associations on the other are at the elbow of the legislator, enjoining, pleading, bluffing, threatening. And so it goes down the line.

As Mr. Bowdle says "genius that will not be kiboshed, is badly wanted in these United States." He might go further and say that steps should be taken to put a kibosh on so many leagues, etc., in so far as their activities against legislators are concerned.

A GREAT SERMON.

That was a great sermon the entombed miner, Hugh McMillon, wrote when he was awaiting death in the pit of the Layland mine, in West Virginia.

"I am writing to my wife, Mary, to bring up the kiddies loving their Saviour as I am now. How our sins creep up in our faces in a time like this." Could any man get more into a few words? "How our sins creep up in our faces in a time like this," and he, wanted the children to be taught the way to escape the result of sins and shortcomings. He did not think of his little earthly belongings that he was leaving, but his last will dealt with greater things

For days and days young Clarence Crab, who lived down by the sea, had been as disagreeable as any Crab could be; It's true that at the best of times his temper was a trial, But everyone agreed it had been worse for quite a while.

At last his patient mother said, "I'm really at a loss To understand why you are so particularly cross; I do not think that you can be real well, my dear; I feel That I had better send at once for good old Doctor Eel."

And although Clarence kicked and screamed, it did no good at all; His mother sent for Doctor Eel, who came at once to call, Said he, "I got here just in time, stick out your tongue, my lad, There's something wrong with any child whose temper is so bad."

"And now I'll have to feel your pulse," said Dr. Eel. "Be quick. Then all at once young Clarence Crab played a disgraceful trick. For with his claw he gave the Eel a really fearful nip; The good old doctor cried in pain, "This child has got the grip!"

"He'll have to go to bed and stay, how long no one can tell. Give him these bitter pills until he dies or else gets well; And eating will be bad for him because he is so cross, The only thing that he can have is thin crab-apple sauce."

Said Mrs. Crab, "I cannot tell how bad this makes me feel;" "I'm suffering from it more than you," said good old Doctor Eel. So Clarence Crab was put to bed without another word, Where he may still be to this day, for all I've ever heard.

But whether he is still in bed, or whether he is out, He's sorry now that he was cross; I really have no doubt; It got him into trouble and it didn't help a bit, So next time you and I feel cross, let's just get over it.

VERDICT IN M'CALL CASE GOES TO THE DEFENDANT

After several hours' deliberation the jury in the damage suit of Dr. E. O. McCall against the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light Company returned a verdict for the defendant Wednesday evening. During the afternoon Judge Stephenson overruled two motions of the attorneys for the defendant to direct the jury to return a verdict for the defendant.

Arguments of the attorneys took up the greater portion of the time of the hearing Wednesday, the testimony having been adduced Tuesday. Attorneys A. H. Johnson, of Ironton, and Stanley McCall, of this city, represented McCall, and Attorney Miller and Seard the street railroad company.

HAS DEVISED LOCK FOR AUTOMOBILES

Walter Thissen, who is employed as a machinist by the N. & W., has devised a lock for automobiles that once put on an auto and set, there is no possible danger of his car ever being stolen. There is no key of any kind to this lock and it is attached to the pipe that carries the gasoline from the tank to the engine and thus to be set by figures before he can get his gasoline to start. The engine and each lock is set by a different number and the owner of the car has to know the number before he can start his engine. It is said to be a very clever device.

OBJECTS TO PASTOR'S STATEMENT, ARRESTED

For disputing with Rev. Rice, who has been conducting a religious meeting at Fullerton, a warrant was sworn out in Squire Braden's court Wednesday for arrest of Henry Coburn.

Arrested before Squire Braden, Coburn pleaded not guilty and bond was fixed at $100. He gave bond and was released. Rev. Rice alleges in affidavit that Coburn disputed with him while he was preaching and incidentally all but broke up his services.

MORE WITNESSES TESTIFY IN THE CITY OFFICE PROBE

Further depositions were taken Wednesday evening in the municipal probe of Director Jos. Lake and the public safety department for the information of the probe committee.

The sworn statements of Mrs. James Routt and Miss Edna Wiget were taken and a member of the committee asked Thursday morning, the testimony of the former was unfavorable to Dr. Lake and the hospital, while Miss Wiget, who was a patient at the hospital the same time Mrs. Routt was, and who was thought to have seen things Mrs. Routt told about, in most particulars, failed to corroborate Mrs. Routt.

The Times made efforts to secure a copy of the stenographer's transcript of the two depositions, but the committee ruled that such were not to be given out. The depositions, the committee held, had been taken solely for the information of the committee, and the stenographer, Miss Louise Emmett, had been sworn for that reason. This whole investigation, in fact, is for the information of the committee which reserved the right to make public only such information as it saw fit, said a member of the committee.

The Morning Star published Wednesday what purported to be the testimony of Mrs. Routt, which it is said was given them verbally by one of the attorneys for the prosecution. The Star likewise carried part of the alleged testimony of Miss Wiget.

OBITUARY

George D. Gims

Death at 1157 Wednesday afternoon claimed George D. Gims, who until two months ago conducted a grocery store at Elybeth and Elybeth streets. His death followed an extended illness with dropsy. Two years ago Mr. Gims was kicked by a horse, and he never fully recovered from the effects. His condition at times showed improvement and he was able to attend to business matters, but for some time he had been bedfast at his home, Elybeth and Elybeth streets.

Mr. Gims was 41 years old, and in addition to his aged mother, Mrs. Anna H. Gims, leaves his faithful wife and one son, Stewart Gims. He also leaves one brother, William D. Gims, of Twelfth and Elybeth streets, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Brunner and Mrs. Albert Brunner.

Mr. Gims was in every way a splendid citizen and news of his death will be learned with genuine sorrow. In a fraternal way he was affiliated with the Modern Woodmen of America, Knights of Pythias and Local Aerie of Eagles. Mr. Gims was a member of the German Evangelical church and was a man respected for his honesty, industry and sympathetic disposition.

Rev. W. H. Christian Delivered A Sermon

The duty of personal service for Christ and the church on the part of professed Christians was emphasized in the special Lenten sermon of Rev. W. H. Christian of Georgetown former pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of this city, at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening.

His text was taken from Luke 14th chapter, 24th verse, "Go out and compel them to come in," a command of Jesus. He urged the need of more personal service on the part of church workers, and emphasized the importance of that service.

The opening devotional service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. John W. Dunning, while H. M. F. Kinsey led the congregational singing. Owing to the illness of Fred Lory the men's quartette did not sing, but the quartette will sing at the second special service next Wednesday evening, when Rev. John S. Bapp, of Manchester, will preach. Rev. Bapp has often preached to the congregation of the First Presbyterian church, and is well known and highly regarded here.

Rev. Christian was warmly greeted by his old friends while in the city Wednesday. He was a guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. John W. Dunning.

ELKS REVERENCE THE MEMORY OF H. S. GRIMES; OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Portsmouth Elks at their meeting Wednesday night, paid fitting reverence to the memory of one of their charter members and a man who had always been very active and energetic in behalf of Elksdom in Portsmouth, the late Mr. Harry S. Grimes.

Pretty tributes were paid Mr. Grimes for the unswerving interest he always manifested in the proceedings of the lodge and the chairs were ordered draped in mourning for 30 days as a token of esteem to Mr. Grimes. The Portsmouth lodge of B. P. O. Elks lost one of its most progressive and best liked members when death stilled the heart of Mr. H. S. Grimes.

The Elks held their annual election of officers Wednesday night with the following results: Delegate to Grand Lodge, Orin B. Oakes; Alternate to Grand Lodge, Will J. Meyer; Exalted Ruler, H. Stanley McCull; Esteemed Leading Knight, Thomas K. Brushart; Esteemed Loyal Knight, Paul Davidson; Esteemed Lecturing Knight, Ansel Skelton; Secretary, Clarence Nader; Treasurer, George E. Krieger; Trustee, J. T. Carey and Tiler, Thos. B. Nichols.

The death of Mr. Grimes caused a vacancy to exist in the trustees and at an election held last night J. F. Cley was named to fill Mr. Grimes' unexpired term.

Committees were named to look after the series of excursions which will be given this summer on the steamers Island-Queen and Homer Smith. The annual installation exercises will be held on Wednesday, March 24. Several applications were received last night and an initiation will be held shortly.

career as a warship from Tsing Tau. She formerly was a regular liner of the North German Lloyd. She reached Tsing Tau shortly after the outbreak of hostilities and the German marine authorities at that port equipped her with naval guns and turned her into an auxiliary cruiser.

Has Eluded Persistent Search of Jap Cruisers.

She sailed from Tsing Tau before the Japanese attacked that port and early in November she was reported off the western coast of South America where for several months she has been active in the pursuit of British and French shipping. One of her exploits was the sinking early in December of the British steamer Chirrens off Chile. Japanese cruisers have been described as searching for this German vessel persistently, but they never could find her.

The records do not show when she entered the South Atlantic. Had she come through the straits of Magellan the prevailing censorship might have prevented news of her movements becoming known. In striving to avoid the straits she should have come around Cape Horn.

WAR IN EAST PRUSSIA, SNAPSHOT TAKEN AS GERMANS FALL

Attacks Boy With Scissors, Delmar Gulley Is Arrested

A broken pair of scissors, it is claimed, was the dangerous weapon used by Delmar Gulley, aged 11 years, in viciously attacking Ralph Scaggs, aged 12, during a fight they had in Hubert road Wednesday afternoon.

Young Scaggs was cut twice under the right eye, stabbed in the left eye, the scissors penetrating the eye-ball, and also received an ugly-looking scalp wound before he succeeded in breaking away from his assailant and taking refuge in his home.

Police were notified and after investigating reported the facts to Judge T. C. Beatty, of the juvenile court, who ordered the Gulley boy to appear before him Saturday morning.

The trouble is said to have been the outcome of an old grudge between the two neighbor boys, they happening to meet in front of the Scaggs home. The Scaggs boy was badly used up, but it was not thought his wounds were serious and no physician was called to attend him. He is a son of Jerry Scaggs, while the other is a son of William Gulley. The fathers of the two lads are both employed at the N. & W. Terminals.

Later the police heard that Gulley was attempting to make a getaway and notified Probate Judge Beatty. The latter ordered the youth's detention, and police, acting on the court's orders, arrested and placed him in the county jail.

AMERICAN NURSES ON WAY TO WAR HAVE EXCITING EXPERIENCES ON BURNING SHIP

American nurses aboard La Touraine, photographed just before leaving New York.

These American nurses on their way to the war zone in France got a very good taste of danger while yet on the Atlantic. The La Touraine, the French liner on which they sailed, was taken afire at sea, and for a time it was feared the ship would be lost. She was saved by the wireless, however, and towed into port with all her passengers unharmed. Mrs. William J. Fitzgerald of New York donated $100,000 to equip these nurses and five doctors for field service.
